FROM PORTLAND.

A Boy Drowned.

PORTLAND, Oct. 31. Albert Fredette, fourteen years old, fell off the bridge at Westbrook to-day and was drowned. The body was recovered in an hour.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Steamship State's Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. The U. S. Supreme court to-day denied, without prejudice to renewal after the circuit court for California district has passed upon it, the application made by the Attorney General for a certiorari to bring at once before the supreme court the appeal taken by the United States from a decision that the federal Government had not the right to seize the steamship Itara for violation of neutrality laws in carrying arms to the Cuban revolutionists.

Irish-American Prisoners in England.
The Secretary of State recently sent instructions to the United States legation in London respecting Dr. Thomas Gallagher, John Curtin and other Irish-American citizens, serving life sentences of imprisonment in Great Britain. The President directed the legation in London to bring the matter to the consideration of the British government with a view of securing such modification of the sentence of the court as will bring about their release from further imprisonment.

Privileges Extended to Italy.
The President to-day issued a proclamation extending to Italy the privileges of the copyright act.

Who is at Fault?

A statement comes from Ottawa that negotiations between the United States and the Canadian government touching the issue of a proclamation providing for reciprocity in wrecking and towing in waters contiguous to each country, so far have come to naught, and implying that the United States Government are to blame. It is learned at the State Department that the United States government has been ready a long time past to issue the proclamation, the delay being caused by the failure of the Canadian legislature to act as required in the matter. If such action has been taken, the Department of State here has not been officially advised of it.

THE ST. JOHNSBURY FIRE

The Bodies Recovered—The Loss $170,000.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Oct. 31. The total loss of last night's fire is estimated at $170,000 and the insurance $76,000. The bodies of James Mitchell and Mrs. Marshall were found this morning in the ruins of the Calhoun building. The two were seen at a window last night and were urged to jump, but refused, and fell back into the flames before a ladder could be secured and the firemen go to their aid.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

St. Louis Dealers Assign.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 31. Miller & Stevenson, glass and chinaware dealers here, assigned to-night. The liabilities are $60,000 and the assets are about the same.

THE LUTHERAN CELEBRATION.

A Gorgeous Historical Procession.

WITTENBERG, Oct. 31. From Luther's house to-day the Emperor and party reviewed the gorgeous historical procession composed of nineteen groups, thus rating the foundation and development of Wittenberg and the foundation of the Schlosskirche. The Imperial party, when the pageant was concluded, proceeded to the Refectory, where a banquet awaited them. There were two hundred and twenty guests. The Duke of York represented Queen Victoria. At the conclusion of the banquet the Emperor William delivered a speech in which he said:

"The thought of restoring the Schlosskirche, the scene of the first act of the reformation, struck a chord in the hearts of my forefathers. After my grandfather had prepared the means, my lamented father took up the scheme with all the warmth of his deep feeling. It was not God's will that my father should behold the finished work, but a grateful posterity will never forget that his name is inseparably connected with this memorial of the reformation."

The Emperor thanked the German priests and Protestant sovereigns of Europe for taking part in the celebration. He concluded by raising the cup that Wittenberg presented to Luther on the occasion of his wedding and proposing long life to the Protestant princes of Germany and the governments of German free towns.

After the banquet the Emperor and Empress proceeded to an improvised theatre in the cavalry barracks, where they witnessed a performance of the Luther festival, illustrating the principal events in the reformer's life. Afterwards they drove to the railway station. The route was brilliantly illuminated and thousands of people lined the road. Their Majesties were given a tumultuous ovation. The whole celebration was very impressive.

ACROSS THE BORDER.

International Fishery Commission.

TORONTO, Oct. 31. When the Canadian commissioners last visited Washington for the purpose of discussing the various questions of international interest unsettled between Canada and the United States, one of the matters so discussed was the appointment of a commission of experts to consider the question of the protection of the fishery of the inland lakes contiguous to the two countries and the regulation of the use of engines of destruction in non-territorial waters. The appointment of such a joint commission was agreed on. Canada will be represented by Commander Walkman, of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

The Bering Sea Matter.
OTTAWA, Oct. 31. Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries who leaves to-day for New York on route for England, takes with him the counter case for Canada in rebuttal of the case submitted for the United States in the Bering Sea arbitration.

The Mother is now Childless and Homeless.

Said That He Threatened to Shoot Col. Streator.

Col. Streator.

Will Institute Suits for Damages—They are Convicted.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 31. The case of ex-Private W. L. Jams, against Col. Streator et al., was continued. On cross-examination Jams said he had been advised to make suits after he had been discharged.

Frank G. Jacobs, private of Co. B, Tenth Regiment, saw Jams in the guard house, Monday. Also saw Jams held up by the soldiers. He was hanging to the top of the tent. His thumbs were tied by a loop knot and the tips of Jams' toes were on the ground. Jams was spitting tobacco juice. Almost immediately Jams was cut down. Col. Streator said to the doctors that if the prisoner hung any longer it might injure him physically.

When Jams was cut down he sank to the ground. Robert Kent, private in Company K, testified that he heard Col. Streator say: "Do not let him hang long enough to do any material injury."

Judge Porter made a rule, at the request of the defense, that Jams should be asked whether his intention, in case he secured conviction of any one of the defendants, was to institute a civil suit for damages. He replied that it was. The court said that it was not a proper question under the law but was permissible at the discretion of the court to show the jury bias on the part of the witness, who is also the prosecutor. The court took a recess.

This afternoon Private Kent was again called and stated that Col. Streator fell upon Monday succeeding the day of the punishment, that Jams had better keep out of his way or he would shoot him. This remark was made upon Streator hearing the rumor that Jams intended to shoot Streator.

John H. Gadden, the nurse who revived Jams, took the stand. He had seen them take Jams up by the thumbs, but only watched the proceedings for ten minutes as the sight sickened him. He ran to relieve Jams when the latter was cut down. He said to Dr. Grim, after Jams recovered consciousness, that Jams was pretty sick. Dr. Grim said: "Yes, but he swallowed a chew of tobacco."

POLITICAL ASSESSMENT.

Marked Contrast Between the Methods of the Republican Committee and the Democratic National Committee Four Years Ago.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. Mr. Roosevelt to-day, in commenting on the commission's action in the Thomas case said: "It has been reported in the press that similar circulars were sent to clerks and carriers in Brooklyn and New York post-offices. I presume that if an investigation is ordered an effort will be made to procure samples of these also, but I do not know that this will be necessary in view of there being three samples already submitted. This is the first time the Civil Service Commission ever actively interfered to prevent the collection of political assessments during a Presidential campaign."

"The commission has been obliged to suggest the indictment of a number of clerks and officers of the Republican State and county committees; I am delighted to say that nothing in any way reflecting on the Republican National Committee has yet been laid before us. So far it seems beyond a doubt true that the Republican National Committee is carefully respecting the law. This is a pleasing contrast to what was done by the Democratic National Committee four years ago, when they not only assessed postal clerks and letter carriers in local offices, but actually the chairman, Mr. Barnum, came to Washington and took up quarters here with the avowed purpose of seeing personally to the assessment of thousands of government employes in the departments."

Attorney General Miller, when questioned on the subject this afternoon, said he had just received the papers in the case and had not yet had time to examine them. He added that he would investigate this peculiar case himself. He certainly would not act until Mr. Thomas was given full opportunity to answer the charges against him. There is nothing unusual in this course, as it is the practice in all cases of this kind.

Who Clerk's Contribution Booked.

Secretary Charles Foster, in whose department are clerks from whom contributions were requested by Gen. Thomas, treasurer of the New York State Republican committee, listened attentively while a reporter read a letter sent by the Civil Service Commission to the Attorney General. The Secretary treated the matter very lightly and was inclined to think the construction put on the law was rather far-fetched and would not hold with reasonable people. He held that there was no violation of the law, as the requests for contributions were not made in a public building.

THE BIG BEE DEAL.

The Packers' attempt to Break Wright Fails.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. To-day marked the culmination of the big deal in ribs on the board of trade. The price at the wind-up was $13 even. The indications were that the shorts had practically settled, netting Cudahy and Wright about $1,000,000. The deal was the outgrowth of an attempt by the packers to break Wright, who was "long" at the time of the cholera scare.

CHALLENGE OFFERED

For a Democratic and People's Party Joint Debate.

BOSTON, Oct. 31. The National committee, (Eastern division) of the People's party has challenged the Democratic State committee for a joint debate between the latter's representative, Frank K. Foster and Harry Lloyd, representing the People's party, upon the attitude of the Democratic and People's parties towards labor as expressed in their platforms.

THE NATIONAL W. O. T. U. CONVENTION.

Changes Proposed in the Constitution—Reports of Departments Taken Up.

DENVER, Oct. 31. At to-day's session of the W. O. T. U. convention, the first subject under discussion was a change in the constitution, giving only one delegate for every one thousand members of each State organization from the Loyal Temperance Legion. Notice of a proposed change in the constitution was made, increasing the membership of the executive committee by fifty.

The reports of the national department were taken up. The department of Physical Culture is represented by Mrs. Francis W. Setler, of Mansfield, Ohio, who said this department had been established in the line of W. O. T. U. work.

Mrs. Rattall, Business Manager of the Woman's Temperance Publishers' Association of Chicago, reported on the Department of Literature.

Mrs. Hunt, National Superintendent of Scientific Temperance, rendered an interesting report of the work accomplished by her department.

Grand Mismanagement Alleged Against Directors.

Chief Cause of Contentions the Amalgamation Scheme.

LONDON, Oct. 31. A meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada was held here today. Sir Henry Tyler, president of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, presided. The meeting lasted three and a half hours, and was marked throughout by great disorder. The principal cause of the contention was the report respecting the amalgamation of fourteen subsidiary Canadian lines with the Grand Trunk. Several shareholders moved a non-interference in the report, and accused the Directors of gross mismanagement. A vote of the meeting was demanded and taken, resulting, 129, 240 shares for, and 60 shares against the adoption of the report.

THE ARGENTINE REBELLION.

Order Maintained in San Diego de Chilo.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 31. Order is completely restored in the city of San Diego de Chilo. The rebels were disarmed by the federal troops.

COOL NUMBERED THOUSAND

The Sum Involved in a Case of Forgery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. The examination of the charge of forgery brought by Simon Epstein against Domingo L. Ruiz, Consul General of Ecuador, and his alleged adopted daughter, Mrs. Bertha Laws, took place to-day. Lawyer Price, who appeared for Ruiz, showed a handful of cancelled checks for $100,000, out of which he said Ruiz has been bled during his three years acquaintance with the adventuress. Justice Ryan held Mrs. Laws in $3000 bail to await the action of the grand jury. Gen. Ruiz was discharged.

DEEP "SYMPATHY."

A Strike of Building Trades Expected in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. The workmen in the building trades will strike to-morrow on all buildings where non-union wiremen are employed. They will be "sympathetic" strikes, for the purpose of forcing owners of buildings into making contractors submit to unions' terms.

MINISTER WASHINGTON

Resigns His Mission to Switzerland.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 31. Hon. John D. Washburn, of this city, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Switzerland, has sent in his resignation to the President, dating his letter Oct. 29th. His reasons for resigning are of a business nature.

VICTIM OF MORPHINE.

Ex-Commander-in-Chief Webb of Sons of Veterans Insane.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 31. Leland J. Webb, formerly National commander-in-chief of the Sons of Veterans, was to-day declared insane. It is said that the morphine habit is the cause of his insanity. He attempted to suicide last night.

New Advertisements.

Charles J. Jones, the reliable shoe dealer on Main street, gives the ladies an opportunity to purchase gaiters at a low price. He is offering 25 dozen ladies' black broadcloth gaiters, sizes 1 to 6, at 87 cents. The usual price is $1 to $1.25, he says. Comment is unnecessary.

Jno. Tobbetts & Co. are widely known for the excellence of the work done at their fine store on Main street, so it is unnecessary to say more than read their remarks on the Shakespeare club in connection with warranted productions in metal. They have new designs.

H. W. Durgin is to give the public the advantage of buying goods very low. He is to remove the Bangor Bazaar into the store now occupied by J. B. Lankin & Co., the last of December, and rather than move his large and fine stock he will sell out at very low prices. He has toys, fancy goods, hosiery, gloves, etc.

Holmstead, the favorably known shoe and hat dealer, has new styles in patent leather Oxfords and pumps in men's, youths' and boys', which will please them all. See what he states to-day.

New Contributions.

The new contributions to the Y. M. C. A. building fund reduce the debt to $313. This debt ought not to last longer. A few days more and we believe there will be no debt. One of the contributions was accompanied by the following letter:

Mr. Jordan
Please accept towards the debt this small sum in memory of my husband, who was one of the original members of the Young Men's Christian Association, with the wish that our handsome building may soon be free from debt and the noble work you are doing go on unfettered.
Respectfully yours,

Tableaux-Phantasma.

Next Thursday and Friday evenings the Tableaux-Phantasma will be given at the Opera House under the auspices of the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church and it will be a delightful entertainment. It requires one hundred people and a carload of scenery and costumes for the production, which is said to offer startling surprises. Many tickets have already been sold and those who expect to attend either Thursday or Friday evening will do well to secure seats when the box office opens this morning.

Rev. John Van Herlich, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Sacramento, Cal., writes: "I wish to express my pleasure in your visit to Sacramento with your wonderful Phantasma. Everyone has been delighted. It is novel, instructive and bewitchingly attractive. You gave us, without exception, the most artistic and striking exhibition of tableaux and living statuary ever seen in this city."

Rev. E. R. Dills, pastor First Methodist Episcopal Church, Oakland, Cal., writes: "I have seen the Phantasma, invented and shown by Prof. John W. Sherman, and was highly pleased with its artistic and spectacular merit, and with the chaste and unexceptionable character of the tableaux and scenes presented. The illusions are certainly something wonderful and the entertainment is one calculated to please and profit any audience however refined and artistic."

Down the Bay.

Dr. W. C. Collins of Bucksport has had a crew of men working on the old French Fort for the past week, writes our Castine correspondent. They have dug out the cellar of the magazine which is about eight feet from the surface. The wall is as perfect as when laid. The stone was brought from France. It was laid in clay. At the bottom of the well they came to the wall which they dug out. It is about seven feet deep, two and one-half inches diameter stoned up with slate stone, the same kind as the cellar they found many pieces of French earthen ware.

The location of the wall and cellar is the same as given by the chart that Dr. Wheeler obtained from France. In the spring Dr. Collins will renew work on the portions of the fort.

Distinguished Maine Soldier.

The Humboldt Daily Standard, of Eureka, California, has an extended account of the funeral of Brigadier General John Wesley Freeze, who was born in Orono Me., on July 26th, 1834. He passed his first eighteen years on the farm and then came to Bangor, where he studied dentistry and later opened an office for the practice of his profession. When the war broke out he immediately entered the service as captain in the Seventh Maine Infantry. He was afterwards transferred to the First District of Columbia Cavalry, and later to the First Maine Cavalry in which he served as an officer, coming out at the close of the war as a captain with a major's brevet. He served four years and

To The Norumbega by Attractions Offered Monday Evening.

And No One Was Disappointed Because He Went There.

Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works and Other Events Decided Success.

Beautiful Tableaux, Lots of Fun And Much to Interest.

The very large audience gathered last evening at The Norumbega agreed that the presentation of Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works was a decided success in every particular and another was added to the already long list of highly enjoyable amateur performances in Bangor, noted for the results in that line. To Miss McCobb, of Portland, who acted as Mrs. Jarley and directed the whole affair, is due the greatest credit for the manner in which the Wax Works were given, as also to the participants.

Long before 8 o'clock people commenced to gather at the hall and when the curtain rose there was a large audience present. After the orchestra had played and Mrs. Jarley had made a most amusing speech before the curtain the curtain went up disclosing the first, or historical chamber of wax works, Mrs. Jarley explaining the representations in a comical manner.

On the stage were Zenobia (Mrs. Nelson), Madame Roland (Miss Hall), Queen Elizabeth (Miss Crombie), Sir Walter Scott (Mr. P. A. Hubbard), Mary, Queen of Scots (Miss Strickland) and Columbus (Mr. G. L. Meylan), each on a pedestal. Each went through some motions when wound up. Then the lackeys, Messrs. S. H. Boardman and F. H. Davis, brought in Lord Byron (Mr. H. A. Chapman) on a truck, and then in succession The Maid of Athens (Miss Gertrude Clergue), Joan of Arc (Mrs. H. A. Chapman), Diogenes (Mr. Don Wing) in his inevitable tub, Marquis of Lorne (Mr. I. K. Stetson) and Princess Louise (Miss Stevens). There was much amusing conversation and by-play.

In the miscellaneous chamber, No. 2, the curtain rose on a picture disclosing a cowboy (Mr. Woodbury); Ophelia (Miss Fannie Stetson); Indian (Mr. Sidney Wyman); maiden pursued (Miss Seavey); Hamlet (Mr. Alex. Mayberry); and the giggler (Miss Mabelle Wood). Then the lackeys brought in at Mrs. Jarley's orders, Nydia (Miss Julia Dillingham); Mrs. Squeers (Miss Florence Wynnon); and the boys (Nat Ayer, Hal Hinckley, Jack Wilson and Edwin Ross); the old lady who died dancing (Miss Carrie Dyer); Dick Swiveler (Mr. Harry Libby); the Marchioness (Miss Dillingham); Jasper Packlemerton (Mr. W. D. Bradford) who had just arrived by express and who was taken to the stage through the audience from the room near the front entrance, all tied up in wrapping paper and labelled "With Care"; the prima donna, (Miss Frances Mason); Japanese girl, (Miss Maud Hayward); Porcia, (Miss Jennie Roberts); and Topsy (Mrs. S. H. Boardman.) Much amusement was created by the bringing in of Topsy, who executed a characteristic dance; the dancing of the old lady, the feeding of the boys by Mrs. Squeers, and the bringing in over the stage of Jasper Packlemerton.

Then the curtain fell amid applause and after music by the orchestra, the curtain again went up on the classical chamber, which was in many respects the most beautiful. On the pedestals were Achilles (Mr. George Stetson); Juno (Miss Mabel Harlow); Minerva (Miss Prentiss Venus); Paris (Mr. Howard Simpson); and in chairs, the Roman matron (Mrs. W. A. Nelson), and Cornelia (Miss Boardman). Then were brought in Ajax (Mr. Edward Godfrey), on the truck; Andromache (Miss Louise Getchell); Proserpine (Miss Blanche Clayton); and Cornelia's jewels (Masters Clarence Stetson and Wilson Wing.)

After a funny poem read by Mrs. Jarley the curtain fell on the final act. Columns would be necessary to accurately describe the whole event and the funny situations. It was also absolutely necessary to be present to fully appreciate the exhibition. Miss McCobb was most excellent as the wax works exhibitor, her inimitable manner causing continuous laughter and applause. Her talks at the telephone and some local hits took well.

The costumes of the ladies were elegant where the characters called for elegance, and grotesque and mirth-provoking as was the case. The men did their share in carrying out the fun. It was as a whole one of the best things given in Bangor for some time.

Then followed the ball driving contest, which occurred upon the stage, the participants being Miss Carrie Chapman, Miss Lillian Williams, Miss Mildred Varman, Miss Eva Hunt, Miss Edith Brad-

...for whose benefit the show was given. The ladies who arranged it had the satisfaction of having their hard labors rewarded in a substantial manner and the participants gave much pleasure to hundreds of Bangor people for the evening.

At 1.30 P. M., Prof. W. W. Stetson, Auburn, will give an address on "Agriculture in our Common Schools," and the scholars from Auburn will have an object lesson in the same.

Saturday, November 12, it is expected that an institute will be held at Phippsbury, the speakers and subject to be announced. At all and each of these the desire is that those attending come prepared to discuss and that the attendance be large. We would urge our readers in the several localities to remember the dates and make plans to attend.

Charged with Burning Buildings.

Deputy Sheriff H. Lancaster, of Old Town, brought to this city yesterday and lodged in jail Constantine E. Carll, of Hudson, who was placed under arrest on the charge of setting fire to buildings in Hudson, a month ago. He was arrested at Morison's lumber camp eight miles beyond the Grant place, where he was at work. He married Mrs. Goodwin, mother of the young man who owned the farm building. One afternoon a month ago the young man upon returning from a short absence found the barn on fire. The Charles Tweedy Brought Back to Jail.

Yesterday morning Sheriff W. F. Reed returned to the city having in charge Charles Tweedy, who escaped from the jail in this city a few weeks ago, and he is now behind the bars again to serve the remainder of his sentence, or ten months. It will be remembered that he, Ryan and McDonald escaped from jail by getting into the clothing room at night, sawing off an iron bar and squeezing through into the open air. Tweedy says that Ryan is responsible for the escape as he secured entrance into the clothing room and did the sawing. Tweedy says that he was aware of what had been done and fearing that he would be put into the dungeon decided to go with Ryan and McDonald.

After leaving jail they went out Stillwater avenue and along the Bennoch road. They reached Old Town in the morning and passed the day in the woods there. The next night they got to a point near Doyer and passed the day in the woods. They then proceeded to Greenville, eating but once between this city and there. They succeeded in purchasing a small amount of food at a farmer's house one evening, but that was all they had to eat until they got to Greenville. They had a pretty hard time and Tweedy suffered the most as he is not as rugged as the others. They had but little money and had to get along as best they could.

At Greenville Ryan secured some money and food from relations, it is understood, and after staying there two nights they continued their journey towards Canada. They went to Lily Bay, Roach River, the Grant place and Cheesecook Lake. Their journey was then made easier for them as they secured a canoe, a tent and provisions and pushed on to Chamberlain Lake and Eagle Lake. They went down the Allegash and into Canadian waters, making the trip of 120 miles by canoe. When they reached the railroad Ryan and McDonald proposed taking a train and all three jumped aboard, but Tweedy concluded that he would not go and jumped out.

Friday Tweedy entered the village of Fort Kent and went into the hotel. He had been there but a short time when ex-Sheriff F. M. Burns, who is now engaged in distributing ballots for the election, saw and recognized him and informed him that he was his prisoner. Tweedy made no resistance and was taken to Caribou. A telegram was sent to Sheriff Reed, announcing the arrest and he at once proceeded to Caribou, returning with the prisoner yesterday morning as above stated. Tweedy appears penitent and seems to regret his escapade. He suffered considerably from the long tramp and exposure. It is hoped that Ryan and McDonald may be captured.
